Loan Repayment Alert:

A $1,100 increase in your student loan to purchase a computer will increase your loan repayment amount by approximately $13 per month. If you repay your student loan over the typical 10 year period, you will pay an estimated $519 in interest (or nearly one-third the price of the computer). A computer has a useful lifespan of three to five years. Please note that when funding a computer purchase with unsubsidized Direct Loan, your estimated interest expense will be higher when your purchase is funded with unsubsidized Direct Loan because interest begins to accrue as soon as the loan disburses.
